Conservatives Deliver Results in a Broken Parliament

Dear Neighbour,

After earning 2.4 million new votes and gaining 24 new seats in the last federal election, a stronger Conservative caucus returned to Parliament this spring with one mission: fight for a Canada that is affordable, safe, self-reliant and united.

Conservatives worked across party lines when it was in the best interest of Canadians—supporting tax relief for workers even though Liberal tax cuts fell far short of what's needed. But week after week, it became clear that even after nearly a decade in power, the Liberals are still in over their heads.

Carney's Public Safety Minister didn't know basic firearms laws, denied the decriminalization of hard drugs, and refused to revisit the shocking prison transfer of serial killer Paul Bernardo.

Carney's Immigration Minister couldn't answer simple questions about asylum backlogs, non-permanent residents, or how an ISIS-linked terrorist slipped through the cracks to obtain citizenship.

Carney's Housing Minister admitted development charges drive up housing costs—then defended them—and refused to disclose his $10 million real estate holdings.

The Treasury Board President ducked questions on the deficit and the GCStrategies scandal, where contracts were awarded despite their pattern of known fraud. He even claimed court action had been taken—yet couldn't say where or how much was being sought.

In contrast, Conservatives passed amendments to protect Canada's ethics laws, demanded fiscal accountability, and forced the government to move forward on budget transparency and zero-emission mandates.

Canadians deserve competent, honest leadership—not Liberal chaos. We'll keep working through the summer and return in the fall ready to fight for families, freedom, and a better future. Millions of Canadians are counting on us—and we won't let them down.

In your service,

Brad Redekopp, MP Saskatoon West

Petitions for PARLIAMENT

🍁 TAKE ACTION TO END THE DRUG AND CRIME CRISIS 🍁

Saskatoon is facing a growing crisis of crime, chaos, and addiction. Liberal policies like catch-and-release bail and taxpayer-funded “safe supply” drugs have made our communities less safe. That’s why I’m circulating two petitions calling on Ottawa to restore mandatory minimum prison sentences, scrap the failed drug policies, and invest in real treatment for addiction. Enough is enough—our neighbourhoods deserve better.

I invite you to come to my office to sign these petitions and join the fight to bring common sense back to our justice system. (Mon-Thurs, 10-4)
